LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

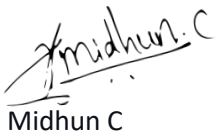

To Whomsoever It May Concern,

As the Operations Manager of Engineering Services International (ESI), I am pleased to recommend Mr. Jeet Chauhan, who worked with our organization as a Web Developer. During his tenure, I had the opportunity to observe his technical abilities, learning attitude, and professional conduct.

Although his role was primarily focused on web development, Jeet willingly took responsibility beyond his core designation and contributed to different areas of development based on project requirements. He worked on web and desktop application projects involving frontend development, backend integration, database handling, and feature implementation. Through these projects, he gained practical exposure to technologies such as React.js, MongoDB, PostgreSQL, .NET and WPF.

What particularly stood out was his sincerity, punctuality, and willingness to learn new technologies. He approached assigned responsibilities with dedication and consistently maintained a professional attitude throughout his tenure.

Considering his interest in software development and his eagerness to improve his technical skills, I am confident that Jeet will continue to grow and perform well in his future academic and professional endeavors. I appreciate his contributions to our organization and wish him success in all his future opportunities.
